

Pastor Mary Sellers

Pastor Sellers was born again and received the baptism of the Holy Spirit in June 1971. In 1991 Pastor Sellers received her ordination. She is called, anointed, and appointed by God as the Senior Pastor, visionary, and pioneer of Latter Rain Harvest Fellowship Church in Las Cruces, New Mexico. Pastor Sellers is fully persuaded that the anointing on her life equips her to preach and teach the word of God through the demonstration of the Holy Spirit, leading men, and women into their full inheritance in Christ.

She had been active in and supportive of both her church and community, serving in various ministries that have included, Children's Ministry, Choir President, Psalmist, Women's Ministry, Youth Ministry, President of Women's Aglow, and the Gospel Rescue mission ministry, which helps women with clothes, life skills, food, and bible studies. She has also actively participated in Women's Conferences and engagements.

She has ministered throughout the country in states that include, Arizona, California, Georgia, New Mexico, Texas, North Carolina, and New York.

She is passionate that the community at large knows, understands, and continues to gain an appreciation for African American culture and history, through her participation in the NAACP.

In addition, Latter Rain Harvest Fellowship ministry has operated a food pantry, a women's clothing closet, and has provided holiday dinners and financial support to families, including single mothers.

As Pastor Sellers would share, "Greater things are yet to come, greater things are yet to be done in our cities."-Pastor Sellers
